We know starting your work is hard! Pair up with your friends so you don't have to tough it out alone!

You can see each other's study sessions and task lists, but only you can check off their tasks. Sometimes you need a buddy to keep you working!

Send encouragements, or give your buddy a friendly poke if they're falling behind!

We eliminate procrastination by encouraging accountability and shared responsibility. With Study Buddy, you can create structured routines that actually stick!

By embedding Study Buddy into individual courses or academic cohorts, institutions can scale peer support and encourage consistent collaboration across the term – not just during deadline periods.
